

FREE WORKSHOPS: CREATE STORIES AND BRING THEM TO LIFE

Saturday, May 16, 2009

Pre-registration recommended; onsite registration available
Greensboro Public Library, 219 N. Church Street, Greensboro, NC

Session 1: 9:45 - 11:00 a.m.

Workshop A Charlotte Ross - "Creating Character Sketches"

Folklorist/teller Charlotte Ross will draw on her extensive experience collecting thousands of Appalachian tales and legends and will share ways to create rich, compelling character sketches from historical and family sources.

Workshop B Priscilla Best - "Thinking on Your Feet Without Falling on Your Face"

Seasoned teller Priscilla Best will help novice and experienced tellers learn an array of storytelling performance techniques to diminish stage fright and gain confidence as tellers with audiences of all ages.

Session 2: 11:15 - 12:30 p.m.

Workshop C Donald Davis - "Walking Around Inside Our Memories"

Donald Davis, internationally acclaimed masterteller of Appalachian tales and family stories, will use his over 30 years of real-life storytelling to help participants tap into their memories and shape their own personal narratives and family-based stories.

Workshop D Marvin Cole - "Bringing Huck Finn to Life"

Nationally known teller Marvin Cole brings Mark Twain and his characters to life and "becomes" the character. Workshop participants will learn how he gets inside a story to bring characters and their times to life on stage.
